PROFILE

Architectural designer based in Dar es Salaam, completing a Bachelor of Architecture at Ardhi University. I design around contrast and balance — grounded against light, geometric against organic — always starting from how people move through and feel inside a space. I take projects through every stage, from the first hand-drafted site plan to a full set of working drawings, across commercial, residential and interior work.

SELECTED PROJECTS

- A 5-Star Hotel COMMERCIAL · HOSPITALITY
Conceived around duality — a stone-clad podium anchoring two refined glass-and-concrete towers. Clean geometry softened by organic curves, a dialogue between structure and fluidity.
- Affordable Housing RESIDENTIAL · 350+ UNITS
A community-oriented scheme of 350+ units using a colour-coded window-framing system to aid wayfinding and unit identification — vibrant character without added construction complexity.
- Residential Designs RESIDENTIAL
Single-family houses exploring massing, daylight and the threshold between interior and garden — homes that open up as the day moves across them.
- Interior Design INTERIORS
Interiors where colour and texture carry the mood — sage green and burnt orange against warm plaster, daylight and lamplight studied as carefully as the furniture.
- Marble Interior INTERIORS · LUXURY
Double-height living anchored by marble — book-matched stone stair, marble media wall and a freestanding bath against the skyline. Contrast between stone, light and void.
- Cafeteria — Working Drawing Set HAND-DRAFTED
A complete hand-drafted package: site plan at 1:200, floor plans, measured sections, construction details to 1:2, coloured elevations and a colour-pencil perspective. Pencil, ink and a steady hand.
